

WELLSTON RIOTERS WOUND PASSENGER ON A STREET CAR

Reckless Shooting by Policeman Endangered Children's Lives.

SEVERAL WOUNDED

Jack Hanson Is Hurt for Second Time During Troubles.

Eight special policemen kept order on the streets of Wellston Friday, and Mayor Roberts expressed his belief that they would be able to prevent further violence until the Supreme Court decided whether the incorporation of the city a year ago was legal. This decision is expected within a month.

Credit is given by both sides to the Rev. Father C. F. O'Leary, pastor of Notre Dame Church, for quelling Thursday's riot, the latest chapter in the town's bloody history, after it had gone beyond the control of the police. Policemen Jack Hanson and Charles Thompson were stabbed and slashed, and one anti-incorporationist, L. M. Brown, suffered three bullet wounds, while John Peters, a passenger on a passing street car, was "winged" in the shoulder.

Passengers Lives Endangered.
Hanson and Brown were both in a serious condition Friday, the former in the Missouri Baptist Sanitarium, the latter at his home, 1922 Kennerly avenue. Thompson, who was taken to the sanitarium with Hanson, was able to leave the institution Friday. Charles Butcher, an "anti," whose face was cut and bruised in the fight, was prostrated by the effect of the shock on his heart. This is the second time Hanson's life has been endangered by the incorporation feud, which in the latest case was complicated by a personal enmity between him and Brown.

It became known Friday that John Peters had been wounded by a bullet fired by one of the policemen, which went wild and inflicted a slight wound in his shoulder as he stood on the rear platform of a St. Charles car. Peters is a laborer and lives in Wellston, but has had no active part in the political fight there. Children's lives were also imperiled by the policemen's shots.

G. H. Force, who with Butcher, Brown and George Smith, will be tried on charges of disturbing the peace, told a Post-Dispatch reporter Saturday that the present trouble, while growing out of the incorporation feud, was occasioned by the election of any of the challengers from the Wellston polling place at the primary last Tuesday.

Priest Quells Riot.
Roy C. Woods, first of the three mayors who have ruled Wellston in its year of corporate infighting, made a similar statement. It was Woods who elected Butcher from the polling place, and a loud "hawling out" of Woods by Force followed.

Father O'Leary said Friday that he was in the confessional at 8 p. m. Thursday when the news came that there was shooting. He went out and quieted a man who was threatening to shoot policemen because, he said, their reckless firing had endangered his children. He then went to the city hall, where a group of angry "antis" had gathered, and pleaded with the men personally and individually to desist.

"Don't disgrace the name of this city by any further rioting," he urged them. "Remember you have all got to live here and bring up your families here after this is over, and don't do what you will be sorry for."

The words were effective, and in the opinion of many persons averted a riot which might have made it necessary to add to the soldiers.

The trouble began when Policeman Thompson attempted to arrest Brown about 8 o'clock, charging that Brown, a Roberts follower, was acting boisterously on the street. Brown resisted, drawing a knife, and stabbed Thompson and Hanson, who were acting together, and then drew his revolver and shot Brown three times, a fourth bullet wounding Hanson under the left arm.

A short time before Brown's encounter with the policeman, Councilman Marvin and a party of his friends, incorporationists, had had a "run-in" with Force and Butcher. "Did you see Ike Morgan (the City Marshal) stole the election?" Force said Marvin asked him. A moment later he and Marvin were fighting, while Butcher was engaged with Marvin's friends. The Wellston incorporation war and a series of personal feuds, some of them leading to it and some growing out of it, have kept the pot of strife boiling in the suburb for the last two years.

It was on Aug. 3, 1908, two years and a day before the latest battle, that Roy C. Woods was shot in the back while attempting to get away from a hostile group of men in the Empire Garden, 516 Easton avenue. Woods had been active in his opposition to lawlessness and disorder in Wellston, and he was at the time a candidate for public administrator of the county at the primaries Aug. 4. He recovered rapidly from the wound, which was a severe one. Two Wellston saloon keepers were treated, but no conviction was obtained.

Woods Seen Armed.
When the County Court incorporated Wellston as a city in the summer of '08, Woods was named as Mayor. There were charges that the corporation had been wrongfully obtained, and that the title had not the necessary number bona fide signatures.

At 21 last Deputy Marshal Jackson was shot twice by Theron Hartman for the transportation of a woman. Woods thereupon entered on a course of strictness toward his opponents in the campaign for the mayor. April, Woods went armed and the fact that he had hands of his enemies, to have former Gov. Folk employed as special prosecutor to punish them.

The "antis" nominated a full ticket, but City Clerk Butler, a Woods partisan, ruled them out of the official ballot. The Circuit Court ordered the name of Roberts for Mayor, placed on the ballot.

On election day there were charges of intimidation, and of wrongly counted ballots. Hicks was declared the victor by the count, but the "antis" appealed to the court again, and Roberts two days ago won his appeal. He took office as Mayor at once.

The legality of the incorporation is still in court, and may be decided within two weeks.

Men Accused by Gore Deny Interest in Deal

Vice-President Sherman
Declares He Knows Nothing of the Attorney Fees Deal

VICE-PRESIDENT SHERMAN today branded as an untruth any statement purporting to connect him with a personal interest in the McMurry Indian land contracts. Sitting before a blazing log at Camp Craig, where he is passing the summer with his family, Mr. Sherman read carefully the testimony of United States Senator Gore and said: "I never heard my name mentioned in connection with the McMurry contracts. I never had any interest of any kind other than the interest which I have for years had in the welfare of the Indians and which I shall ever have in any Indian contract—no personal interest, I mean."

"The story, so far as my name is concerned, is without any foundation whatever. If any person has said I had any interest in this or any other Indian contract he has stated what was not true."

Mr. Sherman said he remembered having met Mr. Hanson four years ago, during the campaign, when Hanson called on him at Washington with a delegation from Oklahoma on a political mission.

"HAVEN'T seen him since," continued the Vice-President. "In fact, I don't believe I would know him if he were to appear this minute. I never had any conversation with him regarding the McMurry contracts and had no personal interest in them in any way."

Mr. Sherman said he had heard nothing of the alleged attempt to bribe Senator Gore until the Senator's declaration on the floor of the upper house, and no names were mentioned at that time.

"I HAVE endeavored always to show Senator Gore every consideration in the Senate, as he is blind," he said. "I think the many things for him to have done if my name was mentioned in connection with the McMurry contracts, would have been to have informed me."

the Oklahoma delegation in Congress? "Not entirely. They approved it as a whole, but disagreed as to some details."

"In previous testimony you said that Congressman McGuire of Oklahoma lived at the same hotel in Washington with Hanson and McMurry. Did you mean they actually occupied the same room?"

"Congressman McGuire frequently was in their rooms, but I think his room was one or two stories higher up. The hotel was frequented by congressmen generally."

Questioned by Senator Gore, Mr. Sherman said his bill provided for the sale of the land by the Secretary of the Interior and did not provide for any attorney's fees.

Brother Cross-Examined.
Efforts to show that at the time the attorney contracts were under discussion, Hanson was in Washington on business, were made by Attorney Ames in a cross-examination of D. F. Gore, brother of Senator Gore.

The attorney pointed out in his questioning that Hanson was representing Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma. Senator Gore at that time had introduced a bill for the sale of the land, and was appointed to investigate a "trust" agreement, should also investigate the condition which led up to the indictment of Gov. Haskell in the Muskogee town lot cases.

Vice-President Sherman, Hanson, Senator Curtis and others implicated by Senator Gore deny that they were interested in the McMurry contracts, and all are eager to testify before the committee.

Senator Gore's Assertions.
That Hanson told him that a man higher up in the Government was interested in the approval of the contracts and that, therefore, there was no reason why Senator Gore should not be.

"That when asked who was the man 'higher up,' Hanson had replied Vice-President Sherman. That Hanson told him Senator Curtis of Kansas, was 'interested' in the deal."

That Hanson told him that Congressman McGuire of Oklahoma was "interested" in the deal.

That Hanson told him an employee of the Department of Justice in Washington, was "interested" in the deal that he (Senator Gore) knew the name of the employee but would not divulge his name or the name of his informant, especially because the latter would lose his position.

The former Senator Long, of Kansas, acting as counsel for McMurry, had gone to President Taft, on April 21, to urge the approval of the contracts; but that the president had said: "It would take a good deal of argument to convince him that the amount of fees asked by McMurry was justified."

TREE BRANCH CAUSED SCENIC WRECK; 1 KILLED

Four Other Children Injured
When Car at Creve Coeur
Is Derailed.

CAR PLUNGED 20 FEET

Little Ones Having a Jolly
Outing When Accident Happens.

A branch falling from a tree upon the scenic railway track at Creve Coeur Lake probably caused the derailment of a train and the consequent death of a girl and the injury of four children, according to a statement made Friday by Manager J. C. Jannopoulos to the Post-Dispatch. The car leaped from the structure Thursday afternoon while running at high speed and plunged with its occupants 20 feet to the ground.

THE DEAD.
Loretta Langlan, 15 years old, 6900 Olive street road.

THE INJURED.
Helen Langlan, 10 years old, 6900 Olive street road; spine injured; may die.

Vincent Langlan, 15 years old, 6900 Olive street road; fractured right elbow, bruises and lacerations.

Ned Dunn, 13 years old, Chicago; dislocated arm and bruises.

John Dunn, 12 years old, Chicago; fingers of right hand broken.

Sister in Rear Car.
The mother of the Langlan children is Mrs. Mary Langlan, and the Dunn boys are their cousins. The accident was witnessed by Miss Mary Langlan, a sister of the Langlan children and a teacher at the Penrose School, St. Louis. She was riding in a trailer tram, coupled to the rear of the car, which was occupied. The mapping of the coupler at the moment of the accident prevented the second car from leaving the track. It halted on the very brink of the elevated structure. The accident occurred within a short distance of the lake front.

"I don't know what could have caused the derailment," said Jannopoulos, "unless a stick or a branch fell on the track. My men have examined the rails carefully and find they are intact. There was no flaw in the structure, they report to me. The lumber companies can tell you that we practically rebuild the structure every year. The rails are of wood, with an iron strip on top. They are carefully inspected every day."

A report of the accident was flashed to the St. Louis office of the United Railways Co., and the injured children were ordered removed by street car ambulance from the lake to Rot's Grove. There taxicabs were waiting with two physicians, and the children were taken to the Langlan home, just north of the grove. Mrs. Langlan was notified of the tragedy by messenger.

Loretta Langlan died at 8 p. m., less than five hours after the accident. Her sister Helen is so severely injured that her recovery is entertained by the physicians. It is feared that the three other children may have suffered internal injuries.

The children had planned an excursion on the Mississippi River for the summer. The Langlan family, who are the sons of Mrs. John Dunn of Chicago. They were to meet friends at Delmar Garden who were to accompany them on the trip.

For some reason the friends failed to appear, and the children were disappointed. Miss Langlan volunteered to take them on an outing to Creve Coeur Lake. Mrs. Langlan, who was to have gone on the river excursion, decided not to go to the lake and returned home.

In a similar accident on the scenic railway at Creve Coeur Lake last summer, several passengers were injured. Helen Langlan is paralyzed from the hips down. Ned Dunn is still in his bed Friday, but will recover. The other boys are up and about.

Mrs. Langlan says that Loretta, on the last night of her life, begged to be allowed to sleep with her mother—a request she had not made for years. She said: "I'm afraid; I'm afraid!" and Mrs. Langlan granted her wish. When the mother received information of the tragedy, her first words were: "I'm not surprised."

BARTHOLOTT TAKES PEACE PLAN TO CONFERENCE AT THE HAGUE

Missouri Congressman Thinks He Has Scheme to Enforce Decrees of Tribunal.

Plans for the "enforcement of the edicts of The Hague Tribunal by international co-operation" were safely tucked away in the valise which Congressman Bartholott carried with him when he left St. Louis en route to Brussels, Belgium, to attend the Inter-parliamentary congress which meets there Aug. 30 to Sept. 2.

Bartholott is chairman of the United States delegation of 15 senators and representatives to the conference, which is composed of 100 members of legislative bodies, representing every civilized country on the globe.

Bartholott's plans for "enforcement of the edicts of The Hague Tribunal" are in the form of a resolution, the nature of which he said he would not divulge before presenting it to the conference. The Inter-parliamentary Conference now has The Hague Tribunal to arbitrate international differences, but a method to enforce the rulings of the tribunal is yet to be found. Bartholott thinks he has it.

Bartholott will return Sept. 15 and take speaking assignments from the Republican State and National Congressional committees. He says that nearly all his speeches will be in Missouri.

NO PROOF OF DEATH, IS TO BE CRIPPEN DEFENSE

Counsel Declares There Is Nothing to Show Belle Elmore Was Slain.

EXPLAINS PROCEDURE

Cables Prisoner Asking for Statement About the Reported Confession.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—Arthur Newton, Crippen's solicitor here, cabled to his client today as follows:

"Ridiculous report here that you have confessed. Please cable."

This dispatch was sent at 3 o'clock this afternoon, but up to a late hour tonight Mr. Newton had received no reply.

In speaking of the case Newton said: "I know as a fact that it is not true that Dr. Crippen has confessed, and I am now busily preparing the defense."

"I have written today for the usual permit to inspect the Crippen house at Hilldrop Crescent and examine the parts of the body found. I shall take a doctor with me when viewing the parts. I am confident that the prosecution cannot prove that they are the parts of a woman's body, as there are no bones."

Wants Depositions.
"I have also written for copies of the depositions made by witnesses at the Bow Street Police Court, on which the British Government bases its charges. I anticipate no trouble in getting them."

"My opinion is that until there is evidence beyond what has been suggested in the newspapers, there is no case against Dr. Crippen. He is charged with the murder of a woman. What evidence is there that these are a woman's remains? You cannot convict a man of murder if you cannot produce the body—unless, of course, he has been seen actually committing the murder."

"I shall not go to Canada, but as soon as Dr. Crippen lands at Liverpool I shall see him."

"I have not briefed anyone as yet to defend. I shall conduct the police court case myself. Then if he is committed it will be time to brief counsel for the Old Bailey."

Mr. Newton is a solicitor. In the English practice a solicitor may appear before a police magistrate, but he cannot plead before a judge of a higher court. In the higher courts a defendant's cause must be conducted by a barrister, who works from a brief supplied by the solicitor and does not come in contact with even his own witnesses until they testify in court. The Old Bailey is the Central Criminal Court.

On being shown a cable dispatch which reported that Inspector Dew had declared that "Crippen will be a dead man in two months," Mr. Newton remarked:

Doubts Dew's Statement.
"I can't understand what it means unless Dr. Crippen is in bad health. I certainly do not believe that Dew intended to convey the idea that Dr. Crippen will be hanged in two months. That would be impossible, even supposing that he should be found guilty. The Police Court proceedings will last until the middle or the end of October and if he is committed his trial cannot take place before December. I do not believe Dew ever made such a statement. He is a quiet, unemotional man."

and most unlikely to say anything of that kind."

Newton is generally regarded here as the leading criminal solicitor. He defended the notorious "Chicago May" when she was sentenced with a man named Smith for attempting to shoot Eddie Grier, the escaped Devil's Island prisoner. Fifteen years ago he successfully defended William Ashforth, whom the American Government wished England to extradite on a charge of misappropriating $150,000 belonging to an American building society of which he was president and treasurer.

Detective Tells.
Sergeant Mitchell of Scotland Yard, accompanied by two wardens, who will take charge of Miss Leneve, called for Quebec on the steamer Lake Manitoba. The question whether Crippen and Miss Leneve have been married has been revived because of its bearing on the status of the woman as a possible witness against Crippen. The police want Miss Leneve for a witness for the prosecution, but if it is proved that she is Crippen's wife, she cannot be compelled to testify against her husband.

Supt. Frost says an exhaustive official investigation has failed to produce any evidence of such a marriage. Therefore, the warrant for the woman's arrest was made out against Miss Leneve and not against "Mrs. Crippen."

Scotland Yard is kept busy denying all sorts of rumors concerning Crippen and Miss Leneve.

No Word About Confession.
Supt. Frost again today gave his personal assurance that not a single word has been received from Inspector Dew to indicate that the doctor has confessed. He said if a confession has been made he certainly would have been informed, and it would not have been necessary to send Sergeant Mitchell to Quebec with depositions taken in London in order to extradite the prisoners.

ing he left a call for 8 a. m. A bellboy who rapped at the door was unable to get an answer, and summoned other employees, who entered the room with a duplicate key. Kennon had shot himself in the right temple, and death apparently had been instantaneous. Either to muffle the sound of the shot, or to conceal the features, the pillows had been drawn down over his face before the revolver was discharged. The body was still warm.

In Kennon's pocket were found photographs of his wife and son.

Mrs. Kennon was Sybil Berry, daughter of a physician of Keosauqua, Mo., formerly of West Plains. Her present husband is a brother of Claud L. Clark, of 1838 Cabanne avenue.

Princess May, Running Out of Vancouver, Is Reported to Be Sinking.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Princess May, running between Vancouver and Alaska ports, is ashore on Central Island, off the coast of Alaska, according to a wireless message received today by the Merchants' Exchange. The Princess May is a steel screw steamer of 1171 tons.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 5.—The wireless station at Point Gray, six miles from Vancouver, on English Bay, has picked up a message saying that a steamer is sinking, but it is unable to get the name of the boat.

FALLS 7 STORIES; WALKS ABOUT

Negro Goes to Ambulance Unassisted After Accident.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Peter Smith, a negro workman, today fell from the seventh story of a new skyscraper and walked to an ambulance. His head was cut and bleeding and he might have sustained a slight fracture of the skull. The physicians in attendance say he will live.

The same negro two years ago fell two stories onto his shoulder and sustained a broken arm.

ITCHING, BLEEDING ECZEMA WAS CURED

By Cuticura After 5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death Was Near—Calls Cure Wonderful.

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as I with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura. I am well, and consider myself cured. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about the wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address, Mrs. Alice Egan, 1210 1/2 East, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."

CALLS TALK OF WAR WITH JAPS FOOLISH FABLES

Baron Oura Declares His Country Has No Idea of Making Trouble.

NIPPONESE REVERE US

Mikado Has All He Can Do to Attend to His Business at Home.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—"It is more foolish than the most foolish of fables, this supposition that Japan may seek war with the United States. I do not know how to laugh at it seriously enough."

As he said that to a reporter of the Post-Dispatch at the Hotel Plaza, Baron Oura smiled, and then, after shaking his head, as if to emphasize his expression of the absurdity of the proposition, laughed heartily in further ridicule of it. He spoke with obvious sincerity and conviction.

"The very notion of war between Japan and the United States," he added, "is contrary to the now ingrained spirit of our people. Respect, affection—those words are not strong enough to describe the feeling of the Japanese for this country. Our people venerate the United States."

Courts No Aggressive War.

"We all look upon this country simply and naturally as the great and kindly friend of our nation—the friend who has guided and helped us in our labors toward civilization. There is none in my country who does not recognize the debt we owe to America—and love her for it. Moreover, our hands are full. Japan has many big problems before her at home. The last of our thoughts is for war. For aggressive war we have no thought at all."

Baron Kanetake Oura, Japanese Minister of State for Agriculture, Commerce and Industry, who was Minister of Communications during the war with Russia and had charge of all the arrangements for transportation appertaining to the great conflict, departs tomorrow for Washington, on his way to Pittsburgh, Chicago and San Francisco and home. This will give him four days in New York. Already he admits his amazement at all he sees here.

The Baron came from London, where he has been acting as Japanese President of the Anglo-Japanese Exhibition. He is a keen advocate of exhibitions, and believes the show in London is doing much to further trade between Japan and Great Britain.

Though short, Baron Oura is slightly above the average height of his countrymen. His mustache resembles that of his Emperor, and he wears a little imperial. His hair is iron gray, closely trimmed and brushed rigidly upward.

In repose his face carries a grave expression to match. But when he speaks his features soften with an attractive charm, and his eyes smile the smile of Japan, that intelligent, merry, kindly, yet quizzical smile that delights and holds, but mystifies.

"You accuse us of piling up armaments," said the Baron, speaking through his secretary, for though he understands English he prefers to talk in his native tongue.

"We want no more war. In our generation we have had two wars. Our wounds are recent. We know only too well the pain and cost of even successful war. We know the inhumanity of war and its injury to civilization. We have problems enough at home to solve, without seeking to make more."

"I have seen that a special correspondent of the New York World and Post-Dispatch had an interview the other day in Tokyo with Marquis Katsura, our Premier. I was very pleased by that. Once I had the pleasure of meeting your correspondent. I understand he is making a tour in Japan. That is good. It should be very useful. I am hurrying home, and will be there by September 3. I would be very glad if I got back before he leaves, so that I may meet him again."

"The interview with Marquis Katsura was very timely and happy. It is a grievous thing, all these shouts for war that are made, and heavy burdens they cause. It was of great service for peace that the World and Post-Dispatch printed the Marquis's emphatic denial that Japan is inimical to the United States."

"But in the expansion of your island empire it is not natural that you might have thought of the Philippines?" the Baron was asked. His smile played in the Baron's eyes and he replied:

"The war with China brought us Formosa; have we not trouble enough? There we have even cannibals that we have to civilize. I think we have trouble enough. Then we have Corea, which is waiting for our labor and capital. But we are developing our people, we are not expanding our empire, and we do not foresee the need for expansion. More labor and capital than we have room for at home."

"Among your people is there not a desire to emigrate to the United States and a soreness on that head?" he was asked.

Jap Labor Is Cheap.

"At one time there was such a desire. Labor with us is cheap. Our people heard of the chances in this great country and naturally many wanted to embrace them. But now the opportunities at home are very large. Therein lies one of our great problems. But there is no serious reason against America because we ask our people to remain at home. You forget that with us it has become an instinct for home to count first before all else."

"Our industries are developing so rapidly that we have no room for more."

Be Sure to Pull Out the Gray Hairs Next Morning

When Frank Scanlan, who had violated his "Pollard Pledge" to remain sober for one year, was arraigned before the celebrated magistrate after having been arrested while intoxicated, he found that his hair had turned gray, "through fear," he said later, "of what Judge Pollard would do to me."

PRAT, what chance has any fellow who sports with alcohol, Be his hair black, brown or yellow? Why, he has no chance at all!

SPANISH TROOPS RUSH TO CAPITOL TO QUELL REVOLT

Alfonso Fears Clerical Demonstration Will Turn Into Uprising.

By Associated Press.

MADRID, Aug. 5.—Alarmed by fears that the proposed demonstration of the clerical forces at San Sebastian, the summer capital, will assume the character of an uprising, the Government today began to rush troops into San Sebastian. A regiment of Hussars left Madrid this morning, followed by another regiment of cavalry and two battalions of chasseurs. A regiment of infantry also was ordered from Vittoria.

Both Gen. Weyler, the Captain-General of Catalonia, and Count Sagasta, the Minister of the Interior, will go to San Sebastian, to be in immediate charge in case of disorder. The Government believes the Carlists and the members of the religious orders, which are numerous in northern Spain, are openly inciting their followers to violence. The governors of the Basque provinces and the adjoining province of Navarre today issued orders to the mayors of all the municipalities in these provinces to warn the Roman Catholics against assembling or entering the city of San Sebastian with arms and that the most energetic measures would be taken to repress any attempt at a manifestation.

BILBOA, Spain, Aug. 5.—Since the Government has ordered the railroad companies not to furnish special trains for the proposed demonstration at San Sebastian Sunday, the Catholic adherents already are commencing to leave for the summer capital on the ordinary trains. Feeling in the city runs high.

The committee which is organizing the demonstration today sent a telegram of protest to the King against the interference of the authorities with the demonstration and also issued a statement urging their followers individually to telegraph similar messages to King Alfonso. A telegram of sympathy also was sent to the Pope.

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—it is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of those peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for $1.00.

Information reached the Post-Dispatch Thursday that young men representing themselves to be collectors for the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund were making a house-to-house canvass of the West End. These persons are frauds. Absolutely no one has been authorized to collect money in the name of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

The Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund will have a booth at the Coliseum for one week, commencing August 15. Different committees of young women will have charge of the booth each day and will sell made-in-St. Louis goods for the benefit of the poor babies.

Miss Hattie Gooding of the Y. W. C. A. who aided the organization recently in raising nearly half a million dollars in a week, is arranging for the booth

CUT OUT THIS COUPON Children's Outing Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund

Forest Park Highlands, Saturday, Aug. 6

This coupon and 10 cents, when presented at Forest Park Highlands Entrance, will entitle any child or any adult accompanying children to a ticket for each of the following:
SEAT IN THEATRE
HUMAN BOULETTE WHEEL
CIRCLE SWING
DANCE FLOOR
WITCHING WAVES
MERRY-GO-ROUND AND THE RACER DIP

for the Pure Milk Fund.

The object of the Made-in-St. Louis show is to educate the population of the city to the excellence of St. Louis made goods. There is nothing more excellent in St. Louis than its babies. If the city can be educated to the value of its babies the commercial show will have accomplished a big thing.

If one-fourth of all the fine goods that are manufactured in St. Louis every year, was wantonly thrown away or destroyed, the entire city would decay the waste.

Miss Gooding will try to impress upon the visitors to the Made-in-St. Louis show, the selfishness of wasting the invaluable lives of so many babies and assist them in acts of reparation by selling them Made-in-St. Louis goods and turning the gross profit over to the babies.

In raising nearly $500,000 for a new Y. W. C. A. home the association did a great work for grown-up girls who can appreciate it. But the infant is just as grateful in its own way, and the fact that it may never know it was you who helped it when it most needed help should not deter you from a liberal contribution to the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

Two young men visited Plymouth avenue and Hodiament avenue residences yesterday. A Hodiament avenue woman whom they asked for money says they told her that they were brothers working for scholarships in the Christian Brothers' College.

"They said," the Hodiament avenue woman informed the Post-Dispatch Friday, "that the Post-Dispatch was offering scholarships for the Christian Brothers' College to young men who collected the most money for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. They said they had already collected enough to buy one car of milk and were now working on the second car."

Such persons are frauds. Notify the Post-Dispatch at once when you hear of persons collecting money in the name of the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

Everything's ready for the great children's outing at the big place on the hill, Forest Park Highlands, Saturday. Ten cents and a coupon clipped from the Post-Dispatch of today will admit any child, and its adult companions as well, to the garden. Seats in the theater, the human roulette wheel, the circle swing, the witching waves, the merry-go-round and the racer dips, in fact

PURE MILK STATIONS.

Holy Cross Station, 2601 North Eleventh street, 8 to 9 a. m. Free clinic daily, 4 to 6 p. m.

everything except the scenic railway, will be free to the children.

Besides the regular run of amusements at Forest Park Highlands, many novelties are to be introduced for the children. They will have the run of the resort from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. free of charge on all the amusements named. The 10 cents which must be presented with the Post-Dispatch coupon at the gate is for the benefit of the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund.

Blackstone avenue children call the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund the "Post-Dispatch Life Saving Fund." One of them writes:

"The lawn party given by five little children of Blackstone avenue was very enjoyable and very successful, as it netted $11 for the Post-Dispatch Life Saving Fund. I, as the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. There was plenty of food, fun and fortune telling to be had for pennies or nickels. The workers were Elsie Strauss, Marie Kinkadee, Fern Herrington, Edith Smith and Dorothy Almon."

Home-Made Programs Please.

The lawn party given by the Blackstone avenue children was on the lawn of Mrs. William N. Tivy, 1279 Temple Place. Special programs were issued by the children, who did their own illustrating by clipping pictures of babies from newspapers and attaching them to the programs which they had written with pen and ink.

A second check for $10 has been received from the Ben A'Kiba Aid Society. The secretary of the society writes:

"On learning that the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund was short in funds in continuing its good work, the Ben A'Kiba Society, at a meeting, decided to send some money at this time of $10, hoping thereby that the poor, sick children need not suffer for ice and milk."

Rose Boyle and Marguerite Eagen, 1215 and 1217 Prairie avenue respectively, earned $18 for the Pure Milk Fund by selling lemonade.

The children of the West Presbyterian Sunday school appreciate the good work the Pure Milk Fund is doing for their little baby brothers and sisters among the poor. John H. Scott, superintendent of the Sunday school, writes the editor of the Pure Milk Fund as follows:

"I inclose our treasurer's check for $5 for the Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, in the name of the Junior and primary departments of the West Presbyterian Sunday school. Our little people are glad to help this most worthy cause."

Kirkwood Lawn Party Helps.

Twenty-nine dollars and five cents was the sum realized from a lawn party given for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund by eight little girls of Kirkwood, Mo.

The children who managed the lawn party, all of whom are between the ages of 12 and 14 years, were as follows: Rebecca Lyett, Ruth Chamberlain, Florence Mott, Esther Darley, Eleanor Good, Mary Edwards, Katherine Edwards and Frances Orrich.

The entry blanks have been printed for the Suburban Baby Show, Aug. 22, 23, 24 and 25, and are now ready for distribution. Telephone the manager of the baby show at Suburban Garden and he will send you an entry blank by mail. Or any mother or other member of the family may go to the garden and get the entry blank.

Enter your baby at once. Remember, there is a prize of 50 votes for the first baby entered, 40 for the second and 30 for the third. The rules which will govern the baby show have been printed on the backs of the entry blanks. One rule is that no entry will be received unless accompanied by two pictures of the baby. The blanks must be in the hands of the Baby Show Manager, Suburban Garden, not later than 6 p. m., Aug. 20.

August 16, 17 and 18 are the dates for the big carnival which Miss Anna Rosenblatt is arranging for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund at Schoenlau's Grove, 5310 Gravel avenue.

William Schoenlau has allowed Miss Rosenblatt every concession at the grove to be used for the benefit of the babies the three days that her carnival will run. Among the features will be prize prizes, dancing, hunting in woods, Cairo dancing, sides, the girls' blue and Clio, queen of Gypsy fortune tellers. Dancing will commence promptly at 8 p. m. each evening. Everybody who visits the grove while the carnival is in progress is assured of a good time.

The Million Population Clio contest for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund, is to be graded with novel athletic features. Officers of the Million Club and Dr. C. W. Bassett of the Missouri Athletic Club are at work on the athletic program.

From the public and professional men will speak in the vaudeville theater in the evening.

MARGUERITE MARTYN FINDS VACATION SCHOOL CHILDREN REVELING IN KITCHEN WORK

IDEA OF A VACATION.

Little Ones' Enthusiasm During Hot Weather
Is a Reproach to Grumblers With Hook-worm, Pining for Seashore.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

AN overwhelming reproach to all hot-weather grumblers should be the exhibition of work just completed by the children of the vacation schools. Astonishing in volume, as well as in degree of perfection, were the products on display at the Stoddard, the Patrick Henry and the Laclede schools. These schools, equipped as domestic science and manual training centers, were used to house the 1800 pupils in attendance from all over the city. Whole rooms, lined with specimens of applied design, weaving, pottery, sewing, nature study, work in wood and metal and kindergarten fashionings, represented two months of half-day application of little fingers. The children, far from being weary, were eager and enthusiastic and busy as beavers seemingly oblivious to the debilitating atmospheric influences outside.

Indeed, during the last hour, a class in laundry work was in session. I asked one of the teachers if the children were kept at this strenuous task against their will. For answer she turned to her pupils and inquired: "Who wants to iron next?"

Fortwith there was a stampede of about fifty little girls, the victorious possessor of the iron fairly ecstatic over the privilege awarded her.

"Grown-Ups" Responsibility
Makes Children Enthusiastic.

THE secret of such enthusiasm, the teachers say, is that sense of responsibility the children assume with work which is so "grown up" in character and the fascination of learning by actual experience, compared to the less personal method of acquiring knowledge out of books. No books are used in the vacation schools.

The center of activity was the demonstration by the domestic science classes at the Stoddard School.

Members of the School Board and several friends and benefactors of the school had been invited to test the skill acquired up to date by the house-keeping and cooking classes. They were invited to inspect the "house"—a living room, bedroom, dining room and kitchen—that has been arranged and kept in order during the school term by the pupils, and to partake of a luncheon prepared by the young housekeepers to be under the supervision of Miss Blanche Joseph, domestic science instructor.

Though it is doubtful if ever more laborious, painstaking effort was put into the making of a luncheon, there scarcely could have been more complete signs of approbation than the manner in which the food disappeared and other commendatory expressions of approval and satisfaction by the critical guests.

Although it may seem strange, considering the youth of most of the pupils, perhaps the most immediately useful knowledge imparted has come from the lectures in baby tending by Miss Joseph.

Teacher Tells Incident of Little Girl's Home Burden.

It is rare in the neighborhoods from which these schools draw attendance that a little girl of school age has not a baby brother or sister, and it is the custom that the older child should be shouldered with the care of the little one.

An extreme instance exemplary of this condition is told by Philo D. Stevenson, superintendent of the school.

It had been hoped that a little 8-year-old girl would be able to escape to an outing in the park without the baby brother, who was her constant charge. The street car loaded with children was just starting when the mother of the little girl with the inevitable baby appeared breathlessly upon the scene. She ran after the car two blocks in the effort to thrust the baby through a window into the arms of the big sister. Luckily, the street car conductor rang the bell each time she caught up with the car.

Crunden Branch Library Is a Veritable "Day Nursery."

AN attendant at the Crunden Branch Library in the picture book department, which is a popular resort for the children of the neighborhood, describes it as being a veritable day nursery.

Little foster-mothers arrange their infant charges for naps in the quiet rooms. Each little girl is on the alert constantly for the particular cry to which she must respond, and at the slightest whimper there is always that little argument:

"Is that my baby?"

"No, it isn't. It's my baby."

So the little girls have taken vital interest in filling their note books at Miss Joseph's talks and practical demonstrations.

GOV. PATTERSON BADLY BEATEN IN TENNESSEE FIGHT

Independent Judicial Candidates Nominated by Majority of 30,000.

By Associated Press.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Independent judicial candidates, supported by Republicans and Democrats who are opposed to Gov. Malcolm R. Patterson, yesterday won a complete victory, carrying the State by probably 30,000 votes or more.

The successful tickets: Judges of the Supreme Court, Eastern Division—John K. Rhoads; Middle Division—D. L. Lansden, Matt M. Nell; State at large, W. D. Beard, Grafton Green.

Judges of the Court of Civil Appeals, Eastern Division—H. Y. Hughes; Middle Division, Joseph C. Higgins, S. F. Wilson; State at large, Frank P. Hall, John M. Taylor.

The independent headquarters say that the majority will approximate 40,000 votes. The regular Democrats, whose ticket was defeated, say these figures will be cut by 15,000 votes, and their leaders allege fraud in many places. They also charge that they were denied representation at the polls by the election commissioners, dominated by the Independent faction.

The Independents represent in a large measure the State-wide prohibition element of the Democratic party, which has been vigorously opposing Gov. Patterson since his memorable campaign against former Senator E. W. Carmack for the gubernatorial nomination.

Gov. Patterson's enemies lined up solidly with the Independents. The Cooper case, charges of attempted coercion of the Supreme Court by the Governor in its decision of the famous trial and his pardon of Col. Cooper, convicted of the murder of Carmack, played a leading part in his campaign and served almost to make it a fight for and against Patterson.

The Republican leaders, Newell Sanders and H. Clay Evans, entered the fight for the Independents. The endorsement by the Republican Committee of the Independents was followed by a break in Republican ranks, and the negro vote, it is said, was solidly for the regular ticket.

Gov. Patterson is a candidate for reelection this fall.

EARTHQUAKE LASTS 47 MINUTES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Heavy earthquake shocks were recorded on the seismograph at Georgetown University last night. The shocks began at 8:46 p. m. and continued until 9:33. They consisted of two maximum shocks and a series of lesser disturbances.

Indications were that the center of the disturbance was about 2,000 miles from Washington.

COURTMARTIAL FOR DESERTERS FROM THE AMPHITRITE

27 Who "Jumped the Ship" to Be Tried When Monitor Arrives.

"HANDS TOO SOFT"

Lieut. Little Says Reserves Looked for Joy Jaunt, Unused to Labor.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 5.—Telephone messages received here today indicate that the United States monitor Amphitrite, now lying at anchor at Whitehall Landing, 50 miles south of here, will do well to get to this city in the next few weeks, to say nothing of trying to get to Cairo, or to St. Louis, its destination. Lieut. T. L. Johnson, in charge of the boat, gave a description of its condition, in a telephone message from Helena, which showed that the troubles of the Huntress are being repeated in the boat which is to replace that much battered and much laughed-at craft.

The principal trouble is with the engine. Mechanical aid from this city, and extensive repairs, will be necessary before the boat can go any farther. "It would not surprise me at all," said Johnson, "if we had to wait in the Memphis harbor until next spring. We can't take chances with sandbars in low water, and we must be near a good produce point."

No punishment save summary dismissal from the Missouri Naval Reserve, after a courtmartial, will be visited upon the 27 marines who deserted the monitor Amphitrite, now bound for St. Louis, according to the opinion of Lieut. Little, who is in charge of the naval recruiting station at St. Louis.

Lieut. Little, who is well versed in naval rules and regulations, says that the deserters will escape rigorous chastisement only through a technicality. This arises from the fact that Gov. Hadley did not sign an official order commanding the reserves to report for duty on the trip. Their service, therefore, was voluntary.

J. D. Cox, editor of the Naval Reserve, at 2328 Easton avenue, believes that the 27 men will be courtmartialled upon the arrival of the commanding officer in St. Louis, and that they will be discharged from the reserves. This is said to be one of the powers vested in Commander William F. Roberts as a measure of discipline. Two other officers, with Roberts, would constitute the board.

"However," said the editor, "the officers showed bad management in working negro stokers in the hold of the Amphitrite side by side with white men at Vicksburg. They could not get enough stokers, so hired negroes. The shifts might have been arranged so that they would not work side by side. This was one more or less legitimate cause of grievance."

Cox told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he heard Commander Roberts tell the reserves at the three last drills before the crew left, that the voyage of the monitor to St. Louis would not be a pleasure trip, and that there would be no hotel nor restaurant aboard. He sought to impress the men with the hard work attached to the duties on the boat, he said.

If the deserters were caught by the officers of the boat before they reached St. Louis they could have been imprisoned in the "brig" in double irons and put on a diet of bread and water until St. Louis was reached, according to Cox. The deserters avoided this punishment by taking to the fast freight trains and making the overland return trip.

Lieut. Little ascribes the desertions in part to the anticipation of many of the reserves that bringing the Amphitrite from New Orleans to St. Louis would prove an ideal vacation trip, with plenty of holiday festivities and dress parades in the eyes of the admiring populace along the banks. This vision faded when the soft-handed young men were set to work stoking the fires, filling the bunkers and working below the water level in the hold of the ship.

"When Commander Roberts and his crew left St. Louis in their pretty white uniforms, I expected they would have trouble before they returned," Lieut. Little told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday. "The reason is that most of the crew are bank clerks, young men about town, and others whose hands are not calloused by hard work. They expected a vacation replete with dress parades in the presence of visitors, and a continuous round of pleasure and entertainment."

Failed to Get Recreation.

"Instead of the ice cream socials and shortcake rations, they found that the Amphitrite is one of the heaviest ships in the United States Navy to handle, because most of the vessel is under water. This makes the heat greater in the under-water regions. Firing immense engines and heaving tons of coal onto the bunkers in heat that is hotter than the rays of the sun in the good old summertime is not the exact recreation expected by bank clerks and such."

"If food is prepared for a crew of 170 men by inexperienced cooks, it is usually not up to the standard of navy regulations, and contains none of the frills of fashionable banquets. It is wholesome, but is not a vacation diet."

"I was not surprised to hear that some of the men left the ship, but I believe that when the official announcement is made it will show that most of the men left with leave of the officers because the period of their vacations had expired and it was necessary for them to return home."

On the Amphitrite trip no provision is made by the State for expenses, and the entire expense is paid by contributions of individuals and organizations. The donors made no provision for better or worse fare for the men or officers. The deserters say that all should have been treated alike in the matter of food. This discrimination, which they found when the officers' pantry was raided, gave rise to the dissatisfaction and subsequent desertion.

According to dispatches from Kansas City, Lindley Apple and George Slazek, two members of the crew who were granted leave of absence at Greenville to return to their business, have no sympathy for the deserters, who, they say, "kicked because the cooking was not like mother's and the work too hard for their delicate constitutions."

"Of course," said Apple, "the regulation navy ration is not exactly sumptuous, but it is wholesome and well cooked. Things might have ended happily if the reserve officers had not been so lax in their discipline."

"They did not handle the dissatisfied men with proper decision. As for me, I always shall look back on the trip as an event in my life. I feel sure that those boys who deserted didn't realize the serious nature of their offense, and had no idea of what military discipline means."

SERGES

At Removal Sale Prices

We move to Eighth and Washington before next spring—all our summer goods must move now. That's the meaning of the ridiculously low prices.

Several hundred beautiful shadow striped Blue Serges—without a doubt the most popular fabric and the most popular color of the season—just came down on the elevator from our own shops, and they're going right into this sale.

The prices at which we marked them are way below their value, but we closed out the piece goods only a few weeks ago from the American Woolen Company at a big after-season price concession, so we can afford to be extremely liberal.

TELEPHONE GIRLS WILL SAY PLEASE; NO EXTRA CHARGE

Bell Company Gives Subscribers Additional Courtesy Without Cost.

NEW WAYS TO CALL

Don't Say "Three Double-Five Five," but "Three-Five-Five-Five."

The world is growing better. The operator declares. "It's also growing more polite—so much the public starts. From now and from hereafter our temper it will ease. When sweet-voiced operators are in 'phone, 'Number, please'."

Weren't you surprised Friday morning when you took down or picked up (which is it?) your telephone receiver to make a call and the Bell-toned operator at the other end of the wire said "Number, PLEASE?"

It is the Bell Telephone Co., which issued the ukase that its operators must be polite to the public beginning Friday—as though they were not so already! Aren't their voices always exasperatingly soft and melodious, even when they murmur "Bix-sa," with a rising inflection?

Although the order was issued Thursday afternoon, it was not in general working order Friday.

"Have you said 'please' yet today?" was asked of a Bell operator, the manager of a branch exchange. "Not yet," was the dulcet reply. "I am waiting to hear somebody else say it."

New Rules for Calling. "Still, as the day wore on, one by one mellifluous inquiries, "Number, PLEASE," came rippling over the wires, and St. Louisans began to realize that something was taking place.

Another rule which became effective Friday was the dropping of the "double o," "double l" and similar calls in repeating numbers to subscribers and between operators at the different exchanges.

"Main double l-o" is no longer correct. "Main 1000, Lindell 8000" is now the proper way. Call it just as if the number were written out.

When double integers are used, it is different. Call "Olive seven-nine-nine," naming each figure separately. Another rule, which it is expected will help the operator and please the public is this: It applies to numbers which have the same figures three times in succession.

For example, in repeating "Forest 333," the operator will say, "Forest 3-3 (pause) 3-3." In repeating "Olive 222," she will say "Olive 2-2 (pause) 2-2."

CURFEW SOUNDS AT 10 P. M. AT THE PIASA CHAUTAUQUA

Those Who Don't Want to Sleep Must Keep Still So Others Can Slumber.

Sh-h-h! The soft pedal is on at Piasa Chautauqua. Curfew rings at 10 these August nights and after that if you make any noise the policeman will get you if you don't watch out.

During June and July, before the opening of the program season, considerable latitude was allowed and some of the rules were not enforced. Since the formal opening of the assembly last Saturday there has been a tightening of the lines in the interest of the cotagers who would rather sleep than listen to the joy songs of the young people as they meander through the avenues on their return from a launch cruise on the moon-lit river.

Manager Johnson announced at Thursday evening's entertainment that hereafter the curfew bell will mean what it says and everybody will be expected to go to sleep or at least keep still so that others can sleep. He also put the official ban on the little dancing parties that have been held after the evening's entertainments at the pool pavilion. They will not be allowed because they contribute to the breaking of the rule against noise after 10 p. m.

5 MEN AND 2 WOMEN DIE IN JAMAICA LODGING HOUSE FIRE

Blaze Stars in Hallway, the Only Exit, Cutting Off Escape.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Seven lives were lost early today in a fire which destroyed a three-story lodging house in the foreign section of Jamaica, L. I. The blaze started in a hallway, the door exit, and spread so rapidly that few of the inmates had an opportunity to escape.

The lodging house was occupied for the most part by poor workmen employed in the neighborhood. The owner, George Dunbeck, occupied apartments with his family on the ground floor. He and his household escaped safely in their night clothes by climbing through the windows to the street.

The dead, five men and two women, were all foreigners. They were asleep at the time and were all suffocated by smoke as they lay in their beds. The property loss will not exceed $1500.

LITTLE JOURNEYS IN PATHS OFF THE MAIN NEWS ROAD

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Aug. 5.—The imprint of three coal-stained fingers on the whitewashed walls of the cellar of a Montclair house is responsible for the arrest of Robert Edwards on charges involving him in a series of daring burglaries.

Two months ago, a robbery was committed in the residence of a wealthy broker here. The intruder entered the house through a window in a coal bin and in feeling his way upstairs, left the imprint of his coal-stained fingers on the white enameled walls. Next morning the police had a photograph taken of the finger prints and proceeded on the theory that the same hand was responsible for other thefts in the neighborhood.

Friday night of last week, two stores were entered and suspicion rested on Edwards. He was arrested and a comparison was made of imprints from his fingers and those shown in the photographs. Experts pronounced them identical. Edwards, according to the police, broke down and confessed.

Wreck of Steamer Lost in 1852 Found; Treasure Sought.

DETROIT, Aug. 5.—Hopeful that they have a $400,000 treasure in their grasp, men are guarding night and day what they believe to be the wreck of the steamer Atlantic off Long Point in Lake Erie. The Atlantic was sunk in collision in 1852 by the steamer Ogdenburg and 150 lives were lost. Many were drowned in their berth. The wreck is in 115 feet of water. In the hold it is believed divers will find two safes containing $400,000 in gold. The wreck is virtually intact. No skeletons were found in the superficial examination.

Cold Storage Has Made Apples and Apple Pie Scarce.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Because of the tendency to place apples in cold storage for long periods, apples have become a luxury and are in competition with bananas and oranges, according to Emory C. Cook of Baltimore, the principal speaker before the convention of the International Association of Apple Shippers here.

"Children are no longer intimate with the apple, and apple pie is almost a memory," he said.

Mr. Cook advocated the marketing of the crop at the natural season profitable to both shippers and consumers.

Child Found Chained to Wall in Dark Cellar.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Human agents, acting on an anonymous communication from neighbors, forced their way into a dark room in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Lang and found their 6-year-old son, trembling and emaciated, chained to the wall with a heavy log chain.

The parents were arrested. Neighbors assert that the boy has been punished so much he crawls on all-fours to his parents when they call. He has spent a large portion of his life chained to the wall in the dark room.

Courts 80 Years, Forget to Get Marriage License.

DOBBS FERRY, N. Y., Aug. 5.—After courting for 80 years the bridegroom of a wedding set for 4:30 o'clock yesterday was an hour late because he had forgotten to get the marriage license.

The bride was Miss Margaret McConnell, daughter of a former editor of the Hastings News, and the bridegroom was Nathan B. Hallett, a retired druggist, formerly of this place. The ceremony, after the forgotten license had been obtained, was performed in the presence of a few friends.

Discovery of New Gold Camp Depopulates Canadian Town.

PRINCE ALBERT, Saskatchewan, Northwest Canada, Aug. 5.—Reports from Hudson Bay Junction say that the town is excited over a discovery of gold thirty miles north. Practically every male resident of the Junction has gone out and the town is deserted except by women and children.

Samples of almost pure gold have been brought in and it is a rush equaling the Yukon stampede. The excitement was started when a halfbreed came into town with his pockets bulging with nuggets.

The railroad agent at Edmonton left his key with the postmaster and joined in the rush.

Steamers Bring $1,000,000 Worth of Wine Under Low Tariff.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Spanish steamer Manuel Calvo has arrived in the East River from Cadiz, by way of Havana, loaded down with sherry. On Sunday the reciprocal agreements with Italy, Spain, Portugal and the Netherlands will terminate and higher tariffs will prevail with those countries. The value of the wines and cordials on a fleet of six or seven steamships, which have arrived this week or are now due, will amount, it is estimated, to $1,000,000, the duty on which under the rates beginning Sunday would be from $200,000 to $300,000.

SIGHT RESTORED TO BLIND GIRL BY GRAFTED CORNEA

Portion of Man's Injured Eye Successfully Used by Skilled Surgeon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—A rare operation, involving the transplanting of a portion of the cornea from the eyeball of a man to that of a woman who had been blind since infancy, which resulted in the restoration of her eyesight, has been performed at the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital. Several weeks must elapse before it can be determined definitely whether the restoration will be permanent, but at present doctors say all indications point to success.

The operator was Dr. L. Webster Fox, professor of ophthalmology at the college, one of the leading eye specialists in this city.

A young man employed at the Baldwin Locomotive Works had the sight of one of his eyes destroyed by a piece of steel, and the young woman, who had been blind since infancy, was suffering from a disease called ophthalmia neonatorum. One of her eyes had already been removed and she was unable to see with the other.

The cornea of her eye, the transparent film which covers the iris, or pupil, had become clouded through disease and opacities. The only possible way her sight could be restored was to cut a hole in the cornea and in that way remove the curtain that was obstructing her vision. It was necessary to find some transparent tissue that would replace the piece of diseased cornea removed.

When the young man was brought in from Baldwin's, sections of the cornea were uninjured. Dr. Fox conceived the idea of removing a piece of the cornea from his eye and placing it in that of the young woman. The consent of both patients was obtained and the operation was performed three weeks ago.

When the bandages were removed it was found that the young woman could see for the first time in her life. Her sight was, of course, not as good as any of the persons near her, but for five feet she could see distinctly and was able to tell what various objects held in front of her were.

The young woman was so elated at the success of the operation that she could not be persuaded to remain in the hospital, and departed last night for her home.

Miss Fox, 207 N. 6th, who is a popular ophthalmologist, is a shell crab. Born in Ohio, she

Our Great $11.00 Suit Sale whirls into its third week tomorrow and offers you unrestricted choice of thousands of this Spring & Summer's smartest

WHEN you think of the "Hum of the Wheels" at the factory let it remind you of Post-Dispatch Wants—the little messengers that pick the men who keep the wheels moving.

TIGHT SQUEEZE FOR WOMAN WHO SELLS CORSETS

East Side Customers Accuse Mrs. Chapin of Getting Money by Fraud.

No doubt you will promptly endorse it when we stop this narration to wheeze. That is Brady's impartial, of course. Will be by a very tight squeeze.

Justice J. C. Brady of East St. Louis listened to arguments Friday afternoon in the case of Mrs. Viola Chapin of St. Louis, who is charged with having obtained money from East St. Louis women under false pretenses, and he is wondering whether, if he rules against her, she will ask for a "stay" of judgment. Shall he "steel" his judicial mind against the plea of her attorney, or will he allow the attorney for the other side to tie the "strings" to him?

Shall he make the case "long" or "short," or shall he keep a "straight front" and go ahead or "bust"?

No Corsets for Their Money. Justice Brady "waisted" three hours Thursday afternoon listening to testimony in the case. Miss Ella Garvey of 604 Bond avenue testified that she paid Mrs. Chapin $15 on a corset which she never received. Mrs. Chapin told her, she said, that the corset had been misplaced in the St. Louis store which she represented, but Mrs. Alice Howell, manager of the store, declared that the corset had never been brought back after it had been taken out by Mrs. Chapin for delivery.

Mrs. Dora Eubanks of 183 North Fourth street testified that she paid Mrs. Chapin $5 on a $12.50 corset and that it was never delivered.

Mrs. J. W. Kirk of 1117 Pennsylvania avenue said she had paid Mrs. Chapin $15 by check; that the defendant insisted the check be made out in her name, instead of that of the company; that the corset proved unsatisfactory; that Mrs. Chapin took it away and that she (the complainant) has not seen it since.

Mrs. John Garvey, mother of Miss Ella Garvey, testified that a relative of Mrs. Chapin telephoned her and offered to refund the $15 if her daughter would not prosecute the case.

Mrs. Chapin places the responsibility for the nondelivery of the corsets on Mrs. Howell.

TWO REFUSE TO PAY FARES, RESIST POLICEMAN; FINED $250

Passengers Obtained Transfers First, Then Withheld Nickels and Were Profane.

Swearing on a street car and subsequent resistance of a police officer brought fines aggregating $125 each for Thomas Broders of 2729 Sheridan avenue and Michael Fleming of 223 Cass avenue in the Dayton Street Police Court Friday. They were arrested at Eleventh and North Market streets.

They got transfers from a new conductor before they paid their fares and then refused to pay him. They swore and were ejected from the car. Patrolman Schrammeyer was on the car and placed them under arrest. They resisted arrest and tried to take the officer's revolver from him. For the latter offense they were fined $100.

ST. LOUIS HORSEWOMAN WHO SAVED THREE FROM DROWNING

3 RESCUED FROM QUICKSANDS BY MRS. H. B. HAWES

St. Louis Woman Risks Death to Save Companions From River.

News reached St. Louis Friday that Mrs. Harry B. Hawes accomplished a thrilling and perilous rescue of three friends, a man, his wife and their niece, from quicksands in the Ravanna River, Albemarle County, Va., near Charlottesville.

The crusade against unclean and unsanitary bakeries conducted by the Post-Dispatch two years ago, which resulted in stringent legislation, continues to bear fruit. The Board of Health has condemned a bake shop conducted by Herman Lakornsky at 1438 O'Fallon street.

Acting Mayor Gundlach, Acting Health Commissioner Dr. Jordan and Dr. John Young Brown, member of the Board of Health, found the place so unclean as to be a menace to the health of Lakornsky's customers.

Favors Rigorous Action. Dr. Jordan was inclined to be lenient and recommended that the proprietor be given two days in which to renovate his place.

Acting Mayor Gundlach was indignant, both at existing conditions he had witnessed and at Dr. Jordan's suggestion.

"No mercy should be shown this man," he declared. "He knows the law. This place should be either cleaned up or closed up. I am not in favor of two days' grace, nor even one. It ought to be shut up at once."

Between these extremes of opinion stood Dr. Brown. He moved that Lakornsky be given Friday to put his bakery in order. If by the time the Health Department inspectors arrived the place was still unfit, the doors would be closed by law. This motion prevailed.

The first complaint against the place was made two weeks ago, and Lakornsky was warned. His representative said that an effort had been made to clean and begged for more time.

Chief Inspector Walter Cook of the Sanitary Division of the Health Department and Inspector James Churchill, in whose district this particular bake shop lies, went to the place at 9 a. m. Friday and stood guard to see that the orders of the department were carried out. Concerning the place Churchill said:

"I first inspected it three weeks ago. The conditions I found were simply nauseating. The salesroom faces on O'Fallon street. Behind that is a small room in which one of the bakers slept. The third room, with no shutter to the door between it and the bedroom, is where the kneading and baking are done."

"There was not a screen in the place, and flies swarmed there by the thousands. The walls were covered with cobwebs and dust."

"The door frames were greasy and were covered with a filthy dough which had been formed by their flying against them."

MRS. LONGWORTH'S CIGARETTES STIRS CINCINNATI WOMEN

Meeting of Christian Temperance Union Is Called for Discussion.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 5.—A meeting of the Walnut Hills Women's Christian Temperance Union, has been called for tonight to consider the plan of the National Anti-Cigarette League to ask Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, wife of Congressman Nicholas Longworth and daughter of Col. Roosevelt, to quit smoking cigarettes. According to a statement by Dr. Sarah Sievers, president of the organization, the union probably will endorse the action recently taken by Lucy Page Gaston, president of the National Anti-Cigarette League, who directed that a committee wait upon Mrs. Longworth or present a letter asking that she quit smoking the white sticks or publicly deny that she does use them.

Similar action may be taken by the Central W. C. T. U. of which Mrs. John Robertson is president, at the regular meeting next Wednesday. The matter also is to be discussed at an outing of the Susan B. Anthony Suffrage Club, of which Dr. Sievers also is president, to be held the latter part of next week.

Mrs. Longworth and her husband refused to discuss today the reports that she smokes cigarettes or to make a reply to those condemning her, who say she sets an example tending to influence the youth of the country to evil.

LITERARY YOUNG WOMAN IS GEOLOGY PROFESSOR'S BRIDE

Miss Edna Wahlert Won by Walter Edward McCourt, Her Former Instructor.

Miss Edna Wahlert, who won literary distinction by her completion of Cole-ridge's "Christabel," was married Thursday night to Walter Edward McCourt, professor of geology at Washington University. She attended his classes while preparing herself to become a teacher of physiology at the McKinley High School.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father, M. E. Wahlert, 3500 Henrietta street, by the Rev. William J. Williamson of the Third Baptist Church.

Mrs. McCourt is the author of two plays in blank verse, "Purple Mountains" and "The Hearth Builder," which will be published in Boston this fall. She is a member of the "Poet's Wheel," a club of talented young women of the city.

ST. LOUIS NEWSPAPER MAN MARRIED IN KANSAS CITY

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain Go to Colorado for Their Honeymoon.

A dispatch from Kansas City tells of the marriage there Thursday evening of Mrs. Mabel Edgington to W. A. Chamberlain of the Post-Dispatch. The marriage took place at the home of the Rev. M. H. Cook, 273 Holmes street, following their arrival in Kansas City on an evening train from St. Louis.

They were to leave Kansas City Friday for Colorado, where the honeymoon will be spent. They will return to St. Louis at the end of Mr. Chamberlain's vacation and will make their home here. Mr. Chamberlain was formerly editor of the Marysville (Mo.) Tribune and of the Havana (Cuba) Post.

GEYER MACK REFUSES TO CLAIM FLAG FOR ATHLETICS

Elongated Cornelius Glad He's Out in Front and Is Hopeful but Fears Every Other Club in Race.

PLEASED at being in the lead but not claiming a pennant for his team, Manager Connie Mack and his party of Athletics of Philadelphia, arrived Friday morning for a four-game series with the Browns on the Sportsman's Park lot. The Philadelphiaans came from Chicago, where Jack Coombs went to a 0-0 16-inning draw with Ed Walsh Thursday.

Mack is pretty silent when pennants are mentioned. He says he doesn't consider the race ended by any means. Asked what team he considers the most dangerous in the race, he said he feared his seven rivals.

"We are out in front and I am glad of it," said Manager Mack to the Post-Dispatch on his arrival Friday morning. "That's an advantage to any team to have the lead. But I am not saying that we are going to hold onto it."

"My boys are in good shape and are playing good baseball. There are no cripples or sick boys in the lot."

"What team do I fear most? All of them. We are not looking a day ahead in this race. We go out to the ball park each day and try to win today's game. When tomorrow comes we look after tomorrow's game. My idea is to win as many games as you can. Then when the season is over, look at the standing of the clubs and see how your work resulted."

"I don't consider Detroit out of the race by any means. Hughey Jennings probably hasn't given up hope and as long as he thinks he has a chance he's going to keep on hustling and as long as they are hustling they have a chance. The season still has a while to run and a lot can happen before the final games of the season are played."

"Baseball is a peculiar thing. A lot of shifting can be done in the standing in a very short time. Accidents, slumps and illness to players all have to be taken into consideration."

In Mack's party this trip is Briscoe Lord, the former Cleveland outfielder, who was recently obtained by the Athletics in exchange for Utility Infielder Maurice Rath. When Mack obtained Lord, he said he believed his chances for the pennant were brightened. Lord is now playing well and regularly, being rated a better man than Heilmuller and Hartsell, who had alternated in that field.

He is a good feller and a better

Walter Johnson and Joe Lake Divide Honors in Double Bill

THERE was nothing to it but Walter Johnson in the first game of the double-header between the Browns and Senators of Washington at Sportsman's Park Thursday, while Joe Lake was the whole show in the wind-up. Johnson outpitched Robert Ray in the opener, while he lost to the Taftville athletes, 9 to 1, while Lake had all the better of Bert Groom in the final, and the Browns went over, 5 to 0.

The first game, aside from the poor pitching of Ray, was one of the most exhibitions of the national pastime seen this season. The second game was an improvement. In fact, it didn't seem that the same teams that battled in the first game were the contestants in the second.

Off Johnson four hits were made. But one of these was a real legitimate safety. It was made by Ray in the fifth inning. The others were scratches.

Ray was pounded for 12 drives, including a double by Wade Kilfer and a home run smash into the right field bleachers sent by Walter Johnson. Ray also passed six batters, which, coupled with the hits and three errors, means that the 21 Senators reached first.

Johnson went along without any misfortune until the ninth. Then Schwartz reached first on Kilfer's fumble. Al swiped second, and when Street fired the ball into center field, Schwartz came all the way home with the Browns' lone tally.

Ray was a foolish play in the third round. With one gone, he drew a pass; Stone rolled out to Johnson and died at first. Ray had started for second, but when midway between the bags, someone shouted, he came to a dead stop. Unglaub's pass to Kilfer, of course, doubled him, and everybody roared.

Ray was hit from the first inning. The scoring started in the second and continued in the fourth, fifth, seventh and ninth. As Johnson was in fine fettle, O'Connor wisely permitted the Muskogee Tiger-tamer to stick on the job.

Lake pitched an excellent game. The splitter allowed but three hits and walked two batters. As the Browns played an errorless game behind Joe, only five Washingtonians reached first. It was master all the way.

For seven innings the battle was a dead. Off Groom but one run had been scored. In the eighth Groom and his supporters went sky-high and the Browns fattened their total from one to five. Three hits and the three errors made by the Senators were bunched in this period and produced four tallies.

Run 1 came in the fourth. Hartsell hit with a pass and moved

BROWNS WIN FIRST FOUR-GAME SERIES OF SEASON

BY WINNING the second game of the double-header from the Senators of Washington Thursday, the Browns won the series, three out of four. It was the first time this season that O'Connor's men have won a majority of games in a four-game series.

Their next best record was in the series of seven games in Detroit recently, when the Browns won five games from the Tigers. Robert Ray, who lost the opener to the Senators Thursday, won three games from the Tigers in that series.

Thrower than either Hartsell or Heilmuller. Lord was a member of the Philadelphia team and helped the Athletics to the American League pennant in 1906. He was turned back to the minors, but Mack saw a chance of strengthening his team by landing him again this year.

The Athletics inaugurated the series with the Browns six full games in advance of the Red Sox of Boston, who are the runners-up in the American League campaign. Of course, Mack hopes to increase his lead during his team's stay in St. Louis. While battling here, the Red Sox will be busy in Cleveland in a series with the Naps.

GANS BATTLING GRIMLY IN EFFORT TO STALL OFF DEATH

Oxygen and Will Power Keep Former Champion Alive as Flyer Is Rushing Him Home to Baltimore.

JOE GANS, the greatest fighter of his inches the world has ever known, in brains as well as skill, is rushing on somewhere between Pittsburgh and Baltimore, trying to beat the Grim Reaper to that city in a last effort to see his mother.

Kept alive by oxygen and by his determination, it will be by a margin of seconds, apparently, whether he or death wins the race. Game now, as always, the emaciated former champion has earned the praise of the physician who accompanies him because of his uncomplaining disposition even under stress of suffering.

At Chicago, Thursday, it was thought Gans was unfit to continue his journey, but his will overrode the advice of friends. At Pittsburgh he kept alive by constant administration of oxygen, but it was doubted if he could last the journey to Baltimore.

Gans is in the last stages of tuberculosis, contracted through his efforts to get into condition for his three fights with Nelson, and to the punishment he received in those bouts.

Joe Gans, or Gamp, as his real name was, was born in Baltimore Nov. 25, 1876, and his ring career covered a period of 17 years. During that time he held two championships, the lightweight, which he won from Frank Erne when he knocked him out in the first round of their fight May 12, 1902, and the welterweight, which he won when he knocked out Mike Sullivan in 1906. This title did not appeal very much to Gans, and after he defeated But Nelson at Goldfield on Labor Day, 1906, he voluntarily relinquished the title in the heavier class.

In his long career Gans fought all over the country and was always noted for his remarkable skill as a boxer and tactician. With all his cleverness he was still able to strike a very hard blow.

He drifted into the fighting game just naturally. He started his career as a high cleaner and eye-baller, and as a result of a lot of teasing, when he was a lad of 17, he was induced to fight a rival fish cleaner.

He beat him and thereby enriched himself to the extent of $7.40. The Clevelanders should furnish better competition for the Boston boys than the Browns do for the leaders.

JOSEPH GANS (GAMP).

Gans Will Probably Win Race With Grim Reaper

JOE GANS, one-time lightweight champion of the prize ring, will probably live to see his parents in Baltimore, toward whom he is speeding in a race with death.

Wasted by the ravages of tuberculosis and only able to faintly articulate, Gans passed through this city this morning. His train is due at Baltimore at 2:30 this afternoon.

With Gans is his wife, his attending physician, Dr. H. T. Southworth of Prescott, Ariz., and "Kid" North, an old-time ring partner of the former pugilist.

JOHNSON'S NEWEST UMPIRE

TO MAKE DEBUT HERE TODAY

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—J. H. Colliflower, known as a pitcher a decade ago, yesterday became a member of President Johnson's American League umpiring staff to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Jack Sheridan from active duty on the field. Colliflower, who came from the South Atlantic League, left for St. Louis last night to begin his new duties today, working with Umpire Evans. The newcomer was a pitcher for the Cleveland club in 1899.

O'CONNOR WOULD WELCOME M'BRIDE

Washington Shortstop and "Kid" Elberfeld Only Senators Desired by Browns' Manager.

The Senators of Washington got away for Chicago Thursday night without any deal having been turned by Managers McAleer and O'Connor. It is known that McAleer desired one or two members of the Browns but wanted to give cash for the St. Louis players.

"McAleer would have liked to have relieved me of a couple of my players but wouldn't talk trade," said Manager O'Connor to the Post-Dispatch. "In fact there are only two players on his team whom I would consider in a trade. They are George McBride and Norman Elberfeld. I would rather have Jim for either of these boys, but he seemed inclined not to talk trade."

By the way, this fellow McBride is a great shortstop. On a double steal play, he's the only player in the league, who is taking the long and short throw. Covering second, he either makes the play for the man coming to him and if the man on third starts for home, he makes the long throw to the plate. I would gladly welcome McBride."

O'Connor has refused to waive claim on Catcher Harry Bemis, and Infielder Maurice Rath and Neal Ball of the Naps of Cleveland. He has wired Manager McGuire, telling him that he will take over the trio or Cleveland will have to hold onto them.

O'Connor says he believes McGuire isn't sincere about turning loose the three players named. Bemis is the player most desired by Jack Rath is the former Philadelphia utility infielder, who was turned over to the Naps recently in exchange for Outfielder Eric Loe Lord. He is said to be fast and a good hitter. In the double-header against the Browns last Sunday, he failed to show much.

Ball, with the New York Yankees, several years ago, was considered a fairly good infielder. He sprung into prominence last season by turning a triple play unassisted, while performing with the Naps.

It is also said that the Naps have asked for waivers on Harry Niles, the former Brown, Yankee and Red Sox. O'Connor doesn't want the speedy Michigander.

LATE MARKET

nal strength in outside markets, of excessive rains in France, a Winnipeg on-swing buying and local support lapped wheat over a cent were Thursday's after an early break.

Wheat and oats sympathized with the wheat in heat and drifted slowly higher level.

With the growing area temperatures reasonable in all directions, and complaints of crop damage were few. For the moment the "crop" are devoid of ammunition. They are waiting for "frosts" in corn.

A heavy run of wheat to market was in spite of the daily as-ments of wheat this week, of North America, at 7,600,000 bushels' shipments were 5,735,000 bushels, a 6,900,000 bushels.

St. Louis reported 25 cars of spring wheat in today.

Cash wheat 74c up all around, good inquiry.

Cash corn steady and 45c higher in demand.

Cash oats 192c lower for white; 188c, 185c lower, with demand steady. Argentine corn shipments for last week were 5,877,000 bush; last week, 5,880,000; last year, 5,280,000; by two years 5,060,000 bush. Shipments, Jan. 1

Local receipts of corn were 43,000 bushels, which 16 cars were local and 10 th but they are about equally well supplied with money. Little likelihood of any further movement of money bankers, owing to the speculative conditions in the market. The forcing of the movement in the sale of their loans, much to the advantage of the Eastern banks have forced the movement through the stock market. This is the case, as is probable a movement to market may be induced well beyond the usual limits.

Review says: "The past week has been favorable from the crop stand and the rainfall exceeded the normal amount of Iowa and over the entire east of the Mississippi river. The harvest under way with the weather conditions favorable."

Local receipts of oats were 10,000 bu. of corn, 5000 bu. of corn, 125,000 bu., or 63 cars local through.

Clearances of wheat and flour 90,000 bu. of corn, 5000 bu. of oats.

BENCHES, REMOVED TO STOP CARNIVAL PEEPING, RESTORED

Board Orders Them Returned, After Visitors to Forest Park Complain.

Twenty benches which were removed from the southeast corner of Forest Park when the Million Club's carnival at St. Louis University Campus began Tuesday, have been returned to their former places under instructions from Park Commissioner Scanlan.

Residents along King's highway and the streets terminating at the park complained that the benches were carried away and put in piles to prevent their use for the first two nights of the carnival. Many of the residents have been accustomed to spending the hot evenings in the park instead of in their homes.

Park Keeper Fred Marshall took the responsibility for depriving the people of the seats. No order, he said, had been given to him by Park Commissioner Scanlan.

In his report to the Park Commissioner, Keeper Marshall said that he had taken the benches to a remote part of the park to save them from harm. He said that on the first night of the carnival many persons took benches to the base of the Bates statue and stood off them. In that way, he declared, several benches were broken.

Park Commissioner Scanlan has ordered the return of the benches and has asked Chief of Police Young to detail patrolmen in the southeast corner of the park to handle the crowds during the continuance of the carnival.

Automobiles who have invaded that part of the park during the last few nights will be required to keep to the drives. They have been stopping their cars on the grass while they viewed the fireworks.

MISS M. C. METZGER AND HER ARMY OF RODENTS THAT SHE WATCHES, SURROUNDED BY CROWD

17-YEAR-OLD GIRL CRAZED BY WANDERING ALONE AT NIGHT

Miss Lulu Larimer of Lebanon, Ill., Lost Her Way Going to O'Fallon.

Crazed by a night's wanderings, lost in the country about O'Fallon, Miss Lulu Larimer, 17 years old, of Lebanon, Ill., is in the care of Dr. Hewitt at her home. He says that terror from her experiences has driven her insane.

Miss Larimer, who lived with her mother in Lebanon, left home Sunday to visit a sister in O'Fallon.

The conductor of the interurban car on which she traveled says that she did not get off at O'Fallon, but that he missed her from her seat some time afterwards. He thinks she might have jumped from the car to make her way back to her destination.

She was found wandering Monday morning near Fairview Park west of O'Fallon. She was exhausted and raving, and was taken back to her home.

WOMAN GUARDS 300 PET RATS FROM A CROWD

Protects Her Army of Rodents on Sidewalk After Being Dispossessed.

Miss M. C. Metzger is so advanced in her ideas that she not only advocates equal suffrage and discusses social problems from knowledge gained in studying them at first hand, but she is not afraid of rats nor mice. On the contrary, Miss Metzger loves rats, and raises them for companionship and the advancement of science. The deep-seated aversion women feel for them arises from the power of suggestion, she told a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday.

Miss Metzger and her 300 rats, most of them of imported blood, fell into the limelight of publicity when she was evicted from her two-room apartment on the second floor at 1704 Franklin avenue, following a dispute with her landlord about the costs on a suit for rent. The household effects, consisting mostly of boxes covered with wire netting and filled with rats of varying sizes and colors, were dumped onto the pavement and were surrounded by a crowd of the curious Friday.

Breeds Black Rats. Miss Metzger's triumph is rat breeding. In her opinion, is the production of a small black rat by selection from the Japanese breed, which is white, with a black head and a broad black stripe down its back. By choosing those with the broadest black stripes, Miss Metzger in the course of a year produced all-black rats, much smaller, which, so far as she can learn, are the only ones in the world. And they are the most useful for experiments with the germs of tuberculosis, she says.

"I have been doing charitable work for 23 years," Miss Metzger said, "and have made a special study of the prevention of tuberculosis. I have attended tuberculosis patients, drunk from the same vessel and slept with them without contracting the disease. I may be immune from it. Anyhow, I became so interested in it that I began breeding guinea pigs and rats for experimental purposes. I sell them to physicians and medical students, and devoted the proceeds to charity."

"The Chinese rat is immune to tuberculosis, so far as I can learn. I have never known it to be successfully inoculated. The Persian rat dies so quickly from the malady that it is almost useless for purposes of observation. But the black rat of Japanese extraction lives three days, and dies in high fever."

Bitten by a Rat. "I have never been bitten by a rat but once. One was having spasms and bit me when I picked it up. I thought nothing of it, but washed my hands in water with a little carbolic acid, as is my custom. No harm came of it. I am a great believer in carbolic acid as a disinfectant, and do not fool with the new-fangled preparations."

"Rats are affectionate and lovable animals. There is no basis for the prevailing supposition that they are loathsome and repulsive. Any animal, however beautiful, may become loathsome under certain conditions. Rats are much maligned, and I wish the public could come to understand them better."

Whenever Miss Metzger put her hand into one of the cages, the rats swarmed over her arm, and they did not try to escape when she took them out. She pointed out the usefulness of their forepaws, and made some of them do tricks.

"Arlington," a Japanese rat, is her favorite. He is fond of violent exercise, and she amuses him by spinning him on his head. "Tom," a Chinese rat, is of a different temper, and objects to rough handling. He likes to be coddled.

It was necessary to detail policemen from the Carr Street Station to help Miss Metzger protect her pets from the curious who swarmed about them. She found a new place Friday to live, but would not divulge the address. The eviction was by Constable Kinney's deputies. Miss Metzger complains that they treated her pets so roughly that some of them died, but they deny this.

JACK JOHNSON TO BUY HOME IN ELITE GOTHAM SECTION

Millionaire's Are Startled; the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis to Be Neighbor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Residents of Brooklyn Heights, where many wealthy New Yorkers have their homes, are in a turmoil over the announcement that Jack Johnson, the negro champion pugilist of the world, is negotiating for the purchase of a house there. According to real estate men, the deal was to have been closed yesterday, but Johnson was unexpectedly summoned to Chicago on account of an accident which befell his brother.

The price agreed upon is given as $22,500. The house, a three-story structure, is of pressed brick and stone, beautifully decorated and covered with ivy. Johnson announces that he intends to maintain the house "in a style corresponding to the prevailing fashion in Brooklyn's exclusive social community." One of his nearest neighbors will be the Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to Henry Ward Beecher in the pastorate of the Plymouth Congregational Church. Two justices of the State Supreme Court also live within a stone's throw, together with a score or more of millionaire bankers, lawyers and business men.

WERREMEYER MARRIES FIVE COUPLES IN THIRTY MINUTES

Five pairs of newlyweds went to housekeeping Friday after having all been married Thursday afternoon by Justice Werremeyer of Clayton in thirty minutes.

The Justice had Henry E. Threadgill and Kate Williams of St. Louis half married when it was discovered that they had no license. There was a delay of a few minutes while the license was being obtained and then the ceremony was completed.

Martin Risch and Miss Lillian Heger of St. Louis were the second couple. John March and Miss Christine Naber of St. Louis came third.

Joseph C. Schneider and Miss Margaret Humphrey came all the way from Hardin, Ill., to get married and hear some of Werremeyer's reputed poetry. Werremeyer did not have any poetry on hand and there was nobody there to write any for him, but he hunted around and found a little love epic that is to go into his book of poems and read it to them and they went away happy.

By the time Joseph K. Stansbury and Miss Olive K. Smith were ready to be married the courtroom was filled for an approaching trial. Stansbury was willing to be married before the crowd, but Miss Smith demurred and the ceremony was performed in Constable Bode's office.

CHILDREN'S ILLS IN SUMMER

The hardest period of a child's life is during the heated term. It is then that the little men and women become so subject to stomach and bowel troubles. With one it manifests itself in the form of obstinate constipation, with another the very reverse—diarrhoea.

One is as bad and as dangerous as the other. Constipation makes the child lose appetite and sleep, makes it languid and sickly-looking. Diarrhoea weakens it and destroys appetite and energy. Piles, pimples, eruptions, itchy worms, etc., follow in the train until many a mother feels that her child is indeed very ill. But these are all troubles that can be easily cured. The child needs a few doses of a remedy like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the grand laxative and tonic. Parents can make no possible mistake by giving it Syrup Pepsin, as the chances are always in favor of the child needing a laxative. It is sold in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00, and any druggist can supply you. It cannot be mentioned too strongly that parents should look closely after the welfare of the children during the hot months. If you would like to try it before buying send your address for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE to DR. W. B. CALDWELL, 400 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.
